

BREEDENET HOTSPOTS

Connecting the Breede River Valley

IMAGINE...

Imagine the Breede River Valley, where fast broadband internet is not only reserved for the rich, but for everyone, even the township girl who can tap into the vast world of the Internet from her informal settlement. No longer is she restricted by the lack of resources at her school, but can explore the limitless information the internet has to offer.

Imagine a valley where people are equal, where everyone has access to the same information. Imagine a valley fully connected to the rest of the world via the internet. Imagine this valley at the forefront of technological advancement.

This is possible.

INTRODUCING...

The Internet has become a key to successful business to a large extent today. Not only do we as business owners need access to the internet, but our guests expect internet access to be provided - especially at guest houses, hotels, coffee shops, restaurants... even at a car wash. We therefore want to give the Breede River Valley a head start by providing Internet access at even the most remote places by establishing "hotspots".

What is a hotspot you may ask? Simply put: A hotspot is a venue that offers Wireless Internet (WiFi) access to anyone within a designated area that has a WiFi enabled device. The users of the hotspot pay for their own internet usage, the hotspot host does not.

Fast internet access is not an option for today's traveller, but a necessity - especially with big international events like the 2010 Soccer World Cup just around the corner.
